

TEXAS ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

George Eliot Review

Saturday morning literature

Spring 2015

University of Texas English professor George Christian will lead four discussions of three works by George Eliot: her first venture into the world of fiction, three short stories collected under the title Scenes of Clerical Life; her first and immensely popular novel, Adam Bede; and her last and possibly most controversial novel, Daniel Deronda. We will explore these works from the perspective of Eliot's interest in the sources of religious feeling and the personal, social, and national implications of religious structures.

Scenes from Clerical Life

Adam Bede

Daniel Deronda

What: Saturday Morning Literature Chat

Where: 1711 Pearl Street (note new location)

Cost: Your time and enthusiasm

When:

SPRING 2015

Time: 9:30-11:00 am

Other: Open to the public. Try to read the novels in advance, but if you are unable, come anyway and enjoy the interesting company and great literature.